IX|SMART

Dynamic Information
Exchange Utility

Powered by
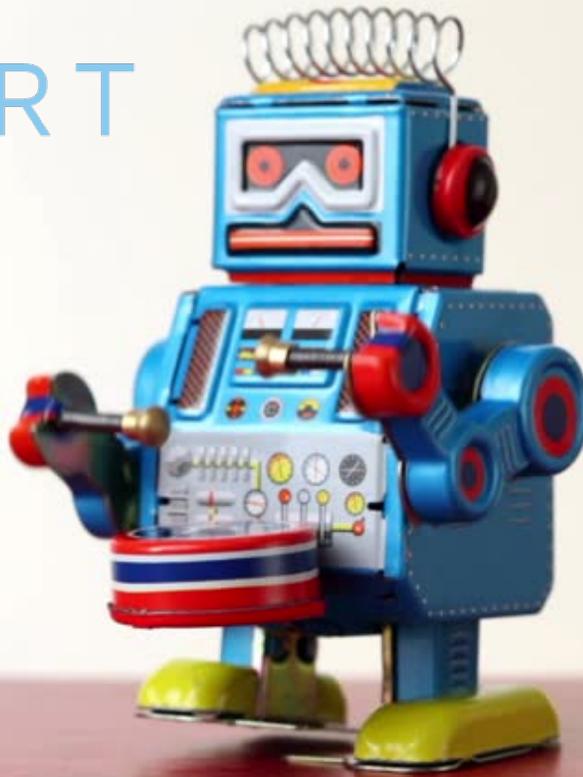

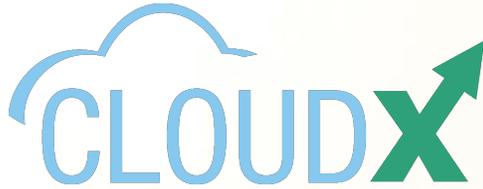

CLOUDX

Connect Systems Effortlessly

Quickly and easily assimilate digitized data into your legacy systems without direct integration. By utilizing IXSmart, CloudX's intelligent dynamic information exchange utility, you can obtain all the benefits of automation without necessitating direct ERP integration or EDI transactions.

IXSmart connects CloudX's APSmart solution with your ERP through a field-mapping technology that instantly and reliably transmits and secures data in the appropriate areas of the ERP to automate the invoice approval process at the touch of a button.

Eliminate Data Entry

By adopting the CloudX approach to Invoice Processing, you can eliminate the keying of invoice data into your ERP system. Invoice Data will be extracted during the data capture & recognition phase. All data collected is transferred to our AP workflow solution and ultimately into your ERP through the use of hot-key technology, taking invoice processing time from minutes to seconds, freeing up your staff for more strategic duties.

System Requirements

The IXSmart utility will run on any MS Windows desktop that supports MS .Net 4.0.

We recommend using dual monitors so multiple sessions can be running at the same time, APSmart in one screen and your accounting / ERP module in the other.

Custom Integration

If you're uncertain whether this approach will work due to your closed or proprietary back end system, please contact us to discuss. We have deep expertise in connecting multiple, disparate systems and can typically identify several viable integration pathways. Additionally, you can extend the use of IXSmart to virtually any data entry driven process beyond the confines of accounts payable invoice processing.

We welcome the opportunity to learn more about your unique challenges and needs and look forward to connecting with you soon!

About CLOUDX

Request a demo!

CloudX is a leader in document process outsourcing that offers a wide variety of cloud based (SaaS) document management solutions along with a complete line of services aimed at helping organizations improve process, reduce costs, and realize the strategic benefits that can be gained by reducing paper based processes.

For more information please visit www.cloudxdpo.com or call us at 860.787.5323!